

Why Invest in LUXX?

Market Growth: The global luxury market size is expected to grow roughly 50% between 2022 and 2030, resulting in a total market size of more than $600 billion.<sup>1</sup>

Resiliency: We believe luxury stocks have historically proved resilient during recessionary periods, due to superior pricing power which contributes to high margins and strong free cash flow generation.

Access: LUXX offers investors access to a portfolio of 80 leading global luxury companies listed across Europe, Asia, and more.

Performance for periods greater than one year shown annualized.

The performance data quoted represents past performance. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when sold or redeemed, may be worth more or less than the original cost. Returns less than one year are not annualized. For the most recent month-end performance, please call (855) 561-5728. You cannot invest directly in an index. Shares are bought and sold at market price (closing price), not net asset value (NAV), and are not individually redeemed from the Fund. Market performance is determined using the bid/ask midpoint at 4:00pm Eastern Time when the NAV is typically calculated. Brokerage commissions will reduce returns. Short-term performance, in particular, is not a good indication of the fund's future performance, and an investment should not be made based solely on returns.

Investors should consider the investment objectives, risk, charges and expenses carefully before investing. For a prospectus or summary prospectus with this and other information about the LUXX ETF please call 1-877-220-7649 or visit the website at <https://www.roundhillinvestments.com/etf/luxx/>. Read the prospectus or summary prospectus carefully before investing.

Read the prospectus or summary prospectus carefully before investing. Investing involves risk, including possible loss of principal. Luxury companies face intense competition, both domestically and internationally, may have products that face rapid obsolescence, and are heavily dependent on the protection of patent and intellectual property rights. Such factors may adversely affect the profitability and value of luxury goods companies. Investments made in small and mid-capitalization companies may be more volatile and less liquid due to limited resources or product lines and more sensitive to economic factors. Fund investments will be concentrated in an industry or group of industries, and the value of Fund shares may risk and fall more than diversified funds. Foreign investing involves social and political instability, market illiquidity, exchange-rate fluctuation, high volatility and limited regulation risks. Emerging markets may be more volatile and less liquid than more developed markets and therefore may involve greater risks. Depository Receipts involve risks similar to those associated investments in foreign securities, but may not provide a return that corresponds precisely with that of the underlying shares. Please see the prospectus for details of these and other risks. The fund is passively managed and attempts to mirror the composition and performance of the S&P Global Luxury Index. The Fund's returns may not match due to expenses incurred by the Fund or lack of precise correlation with the index.
